Measure of Caregiver Burden: How are YOU?

Caregivers spend a lot of time taking care of their loved ones, which often means their own needs get neglected. The questions below are a helpful resource for understanding caregiver stress. Please take a moment to answer the following questions and indicate how often you experience the feelings described below by circling the number that best matches with how often you feel that way.

*Please note that while the word “relative” is used in this tool. Your care receiver could be a relative, as well as a friend, or other individual for whom you provide care.

1. Do you feel that because of your relative that you don't have enough time for yourself?
